Fire Destroys Home Here Sunday

Four Persons Die in State Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons lost their lives in automobile accidents on Arkansas highways during the weekend, an Associated Press count showed.

The latest victim was Debra Martinson, 11 months, of Star City. She died Sunday night in a Little Rock hospital from injuries received Friday night when she and her mother were struck by a truck south of Pine Bluff on Arkansas 81.

The baby's mother, Mary Martinson, 26, of Star City, was killed.

Fire Destroys Supermarket

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fire broke out in a supermarket here Saturday, causing an estimated $100,000 damage. The store was crowded when the fire broke out but no one was injured.

A Weingarten official said the fire was believed to have started in the back of the store near the warehouse and spread to the air-conditioning units.

The meeting of the rice group will be followed by the annual session of an affiliated organization, the Arkansas Grain Corp.

L. C. Carter, executive vice president and general manager of both organizations, will report on the operations of both groups.

Obituaries

MRS. OPAL SEATON

Mrs. Opal Seaton, 57, of Hope, died Friday in a local hospital. She was a member of the First Assembly Church.

Surviving are her husband W. L. Seaton, two sons, William of Fort Smith and Larry Seaton of Hope; four daughters, Mrs. Helen Cunningham of New Orleans, Mrs. Anna Cotter of Enid, Okla., Mrs. Wanda Madden and Mrs. Alice Rogers, both of Hope, a brother, Alvin Lockard of Hope and three sisters, Mrs. J.M. Services were Sunday at Herndon Chapel by the Rev. Clyde Johnson and the Rev. Elbert O'Steen. Burial was in Memory Gardens by Herndon Funeral Home.

W.M. HARGIS

Walter Merlin (Mutt) Hargis, 57, died Sunday in a local hospital. He was a lifelong resident of Hope and a World War I veteran.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lonnie Hargis, a son, W.M. Jr. of Hope, a brother, Arthur Lee Hargis of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Joseph B. Hargis of Hope. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at Herndon Chapel by the Rev. Gerald Turse. Burial will be in Memory Gardens by Herndon Funeral Home.

Would Remove Sales Tax Exemptions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has sent a memorandum to members of the state legislature in which he discusses removing exemptions from the state sales tax.

The governor indicated he favored removing exemptions on sales to public utilities, public carriers and communications corporations, motor fuel and cigarette sales.

He said in the memorandum that he favored retaining exemptions on sales by churches and charities, isolated sales, raw products of farms sold directly to consumers, newspapers and subscriptions to religious and professional magazines.

Rockefeller also mentioned that revenues from application of the sales tax to gasoline could improve the outlook for

Shortly after 6 p.m. Sunday the home of Minnie May Lautermilk was destroyed by fire at 500 North Hazel Street. Practically everything was lost according to Fire Chief James Cobb who said the building was completely engulfed by the time firemen were summoned.

Chief Cobb said Fireman J. T. Barber suffered minor burns when melted tar from the roof dropped on his neck and hands. Origin of the blaze could not be determined immediately.

Hotel Guttled by Fire, 16 Persons Die

DUNNVILLE, Ont. (AP) — Firemen began searching the ice-covered rubble of the Victoria Hotel today for bodies of guests who remain unaccounted for after a 12-hour fire Sunday. Police estimates of the number of dead ranged from eight to 16.

Forty-three persons were registered at the hotel, but the register was destroyed, and it was not known how many of the permanent residents were out of town for the weekend.

"We probably won't know how many died until the end of the week," said Police Chief R.G. Rowe. "We'll have to pull the building down stone by stone."

Two bodies were found in the rubble of the three-story, 50-year-old structure. Four persons were injured, a man who jumped from a second story window was in serious condition.

Constable Jake Termorshuizen said he looked down the street after the fire was reported by Norman Greer, 20, of Dunnville.

"Everything seemed fine," the constable said. "Then there was an explosion, and the whole roof went straight up into the air. You could hear debris falling all over the place. And then there was what sounded like a blast furnace roar and a chimney of fire went 60 feet into the air."

the beginning of a turnpike system. He said this might reduce his request for $15 million a year for a capital construction program, since part of the money was planned for highway purposes.

"The sins of the exemption structure are compounded by the fact that the use tax exemptions are more liberal than the exemptions of the sales tax," Rockefeller said.

nessee, Kansas and Missouri. In announcing the new plant Mr. Ivey stated that they will employ approximately 155 people when operating at full capacity and will be capable of producing ten completely finished and furnished homes per day.

Mr. Ivey further stated that hiring for the new plant will be through the local state employment service with applications to be accepted at a later date which will be announced through all local news media.

Mr. McQueen stated that Hope was selected as the site for the new plant because of its excellent location from a marketing standpoint which will allow the company to attain its goal of $6,000,000.00 yearly in sales.

"This excellent location, coupled with the aggressive cooperation of the Industrial Foundation, make Hope a natural for our new plant," said Mr. McQueen.

All executives of the new corporation, except Mr. Adrey, either have moved to Hope or plan to do so in the very near future.

Vincent W. Foster, President of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, Inc., the local organization which negotiated the transaction with Hempstead Industries, Inc. and finalized the location of the company in Hope, stated,

"The local businessmen, who represented the Foundation, were particularly impressed with Mr. Bennett and his associates as each man is an experienced expert in his position with the company. Being aggressive and knowledgeable young executives in the manufacturing and sale of their product not only assures the company of success but we hope expansion at an early date. We are proud that this fine company is locating in Hope and welcome them to our business community along with the families of the owners and employees."

The Foundation publicly expresses its appreciation to Mr. Robert Millwee, and the staff of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, for not only submitting this industrial prospect to our city and the county but also their continued cooperation and assistance."

Mr. Foster further stated, "Regardless of what Hope and Hempstead County has to sell to new industry, as all salesmen know, how it is presented and the ability and personal interest of the salesmen is the key factor of success."

I cannot compliment too highly those dedicated key men of our Industrial Foundation for their excellent job in selling Hope and in securing the new industry, and particularly as the time they spent was away from their places of business and sacrificing their weekends when required. They are:

Tom Ed Hays, President of the First National Bank, Robert LaGrone, President of Citizens National Bank, Fred O. Ellis, President of Hope Federal Savings & Loan Association, James H. Pilkinton, representing the Hempstead County Bar Association, Guy Grigg, President of the Chamber of Commerce, George T. Frazier, representing the Hope Insurance Association, J. W. Rowe, Director of the Red River Vocational Technical School, Paul McClellan, representing the Employment Security Division District Office, Garland Medders, City Manager, Bill Byrd, representing the Hope Board of Realtors, Clyde Fouse and Ansley Gilbert representing the Hope Manufacturers Association, Albert Zimmerer, representing the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company, Jack Gathright, representing the Louisiana Nevada Transit Company, Arthur Strech, representing the Committee of 100, and B.N. Holt, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

"This project would not have been possible without the full cooperation of all of these people and the help from our Representative Talbot Feild and our Senator Olen Hendrix," said Mr. Foster, "and we sincerely believe that with this kind of interest and cooperation Hope and Hempstead County can look forward to a period of accelerated growth, to a point where Hope may well be a City of 25,000 persons in the next ten years."

LAWMAKERS WELCOME PLANT

"We are delighted that Mr. J.R. Bennett, who owns 51 percent of the stock of Hempstead Industries, Inc., and his associates have located this fine new industrial plant in Hope."

"Citizens of Hempstead County should be advised that this new plant came to us through the splendid cooperation of Mr. Bob Millwee, Executive Director of the A I D C, and his fine staff. Nevertheless, it was the assistance and cooperation of Vincent W. Foster, President of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, and his fine Board of Directors, under the outstanding and splendid leadership of our two banks, together with the fine cooperation of the City of Hope, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Hope Federal Savings and Loan Association that actually resulted in the location of this new industry in Hempstead County."

"Senator Olen Hendrix and I are pleased that we are able to participate in bringing about the location of Hempstead Industries, Inc., in Hempstead County."

Wear the Pants If They Fit, Men Told

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
If the pants fit, wear 'em. That's the advice the nation's males have for women who want to join the pants suit parade that's sweeping the country.

Although many men held out for the miniskirt—"I like to see a lady's legs," said one—most of those replying to an Associated Press survey gave qualified approval to women wearing pants, both for day and evening. "They look good on girls if the girls are good looking," said Robert Winter, a Detroit businessman.

"They look great on young girls, but they're inappropriate for more mature women," said Sam T. Milliken, a stock broker from Denver. Milliken added, however, "When I take a lady out for dinner or drinks or dancing, I like to see her in a dress."

Robert Chace, city manager of Loveland, Ohio, a Cincinnati suburb, said, "I have no exceptions to them. In fact, I would rather see women in pants than miniskirts. God gave us an imagination..."

The fit, cut and cost of pants suits determines not only male approval, but also whether a woman will be accepted at many of the country's top nightclubs and restaurants.

In Hollywood, dressy pants suits are okay. Tight-fitting capri pants are outlawed. A spokesman for the Brown Derby, for example, said pants suits are perfectly acceptable in the restaurant, "but plain old slacks eat in the bar."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Drumm, chancellor of the Archdiocese of St. Louis, said miniskirts are more of a problem in church than pants.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

DENTIST UNITED TO BAN PANTS

Dear Helen: The dentist in this city have agreed among themselves to refuse to treat a child in the presence of its parents. I was told this by a dentist, and believe it, as several have denied treatment if I insist on staying with my son.

I think this is not only unfair but illegal. Why should a child be asked to endure an unknown amount of pain at the hands of a stranger? Yes, I know they reply that a dentist is a "friend," but in this day and time I teach our children to be wary of anyone not in our immediate circle.

Also there is the question of service. I'll wager eight out of ten dentists change their manner immediately Mamma is out of sight. This can vary from assuming brusque attitudes through omission of small courtesies to downright cruelty. Having bullied Mamma into leaving, it is no problem for the dentist to bully the child into being quiet. Chances are she won't even believe the child's report, as the dentist assumes his saccharine manner the minute she is called back.

Our children have endured much pain and long tedious dental work in our presence, without flinching. Our being near their chairs has given them courage, and has also insured that the dentist did his best work.

Why then should we be ordered out when we cause no trouble?

— INDIGNANT MOM
Dear Mom: I very much doubt that any dentist would order a mother out if she causes no trouble.

BUT when a woman insists on remaining with her child because she distrusts the dentist, her suspicious will surely create problems. He has every right to refuse her service.

Tell me, would you also demand a ringside seat at your son's tonsilectomy—and do you camp at the school to clock his teacher's every move?—H.

Dear Helen: This is for "Tired of Gossip," who wonders how to break the habit in her club. My husband, rest his soul, did this very effectively. Whenever anyone started making mean remarks about others, he took out a pad and pencil, and began jotting down notes. You'd be surprised how fast the gossip but-toned her lip!—MRS. T.C.

Dear Helen: We had a prime gossip in our group. Finally we got disgusted, and during one of her cut-down sessions, a brave woman slipped up behind her and put a piece of adhesive tape across her mouth. On it was printed, "OPENED BY MISTAKE."

She took it better than expected. In fact, we keep that printed "gag" in a prominent place on our bulletin board. It's a good reminder that we all sometimes talk too much. — CLUB MEMBER

Dear Helen: I guess women couldn't live without a little bit of gossip, and some of it is just fine—if it isn't vicious. But when it gets catty, I politely tell the gossiper that person is my friend, and then I say something complimentary about her. If that doesn't stop them, I change the subject. And I make sure everyone knows why!—V.F.N.

Funeral for Famed Dancer Held Sunday

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A private funeral service was held here Sunday for Mrs. Irene Castle Enzinger, who died Saturday in a local hospital of congestive heart failure.

A small group of close friends and relatives attended the service.

Mrs. Enzinger, who as Irene Castle danced her way to fame on two continents and set women's styles for the first half of the 20th Century, will be cremated at Tulsa, Okla., and the remains will be flown to New York City for burial at Woodlawn Cemetery beside the grave of Vernon Castle, her first husband.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the nice things about midwinter television is the return of CBS's "21st Century." The show explains the most complex scientific and mechanical advances so that the average person can understand them and even makes the explanation interesting.

The season premiere on Sunday concerned the broad subject of simulation. For a half hour it showed men pretending to conduct a space war by pushing buttons that controlled imaginary spacecraft zooming around the sun. Men safely on the ground simulated the flying of aircraft which were still on the drawing board. Men practiced landing on the moon's surface and walking around almost weightless as if they had reached there.

The film, made in laboratories and on proving grounds, was instructive and fascinating. Walter Cronkite, the program's host, seemed to be having as much fun—simulating landing a plane, turning a back flip when pretending to be a moon-stroller—as the audience.

Earlier, the Bing Crosby golf tournament was encountering tough luck with the weather. ABC concentrated for two hours on the third, inconclusive day of play. The finals scheduled Sunday were set back after stormy weather delayed first day of play. Even on Sunday viewers could see water squishing out of the shoes of the players.

There were a few glimpses of the celebrity players in the amateur pining—the most dramatic being the sight of poor Jack Lemmon trying to back his way off a rocky beach at the ocean's edge. The visual coverage was excellent but the reporting staff chattered every moment.

Now ABC expects to devote only one hour—from 6 to 7 EST tonight—to the tournament windup.

CBS's "Children's Film Festival" was another returning show, this time with a series of three short fantasies, all without words. They told of a French boy's affection for a merry-go-round horse, his dreams about a model airplane and his search for his lost dog. Kukla Fran and Ollie again served as hosts and explained each film—after each was over. It would have helped young and adult viewers had the explanation come in advance.

"Down on the Farm" on NBC Saturday night was a loving and nostalgic look at the disappearing "family farm" of America—the chores, the kitchen, the fields, the fairs. It compared that life with the mechanized farm factories of today and tomorrow.

The hour was carefully researched, loaded with statistics but the hard facts were so adroitly served up along with the warm and lofty sentiments about being close to the joys of nature that it was very pleasant viewing.

Glenwood Pair Charged in Slaying

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Joe F. Tollett, 24, of Glenwood and his 19-year-old wife, Darlene, were charged Sunday with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of a Hot Springs man.

Billy J. Chesshir, 39, was found stabbed early Sunday near a cafe about 12 miles west of here and he died en route to a Hot Springs hospital.

The couple was arrested at their home in Glenwood early Sunday. Deputy Sheriff Kenneth McKinney said Chesshir was stabbed apparently following an argument at the cafe.

American Indians used the Osage orange and hickory trees for their bows; tulip poplar and ash for arrows.

Satire About Georgia Opens on Broadway

By MARY CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Red, White and Maddox," a funny, sharp-edged satire about the segregationist governor of Georgia, opened on Broadway Sunday night—moved intact from Atlanta.

In that city, after Theater Atlanta opened it Oct. 3, the contents were controversial. In New York, it'll be a conversation piece. Here, satiric theater on living political figures, like off-Broadway's "MacBird," is taken largely as something to say at cocktail parties.

"Red, White and Maddox" tells the story of the governor from a poultry beginning (owner of a fried chicken restaurant) as a Mrs. Malaprop of the first backwater ("White's white and black's black and if you got two ears to hear with you can see that") to the roomy governor's manston where he got lost. Act two foresees a future in which Maddox is President, federal troops are gunning down the citizens of Muncie and the President, quoting God, talks Congress into declaring war on Russia.

It moves snappily throughout but Act Two in Don Tucker's and Jay Broad's play doesn't seem as inventive or as humorously incredible as Act One's "long steep dusty trail of deep water" that Maddox says he climbed.

Jay Garner plays Maddox with loosely shaking head and tongue slackly out, but a quick snap-to of vigor whenever desired.

Most of the funniest lines came out of the mouth of Garner as Maddox and some of them originated with the real Maddox.

Songs are very effective, especially "Jubilee Joe," which deserves to become popularly known, hummed and whistled.

Producer Edward Padula believes "Red, White and Maddox" is the first production from a regional theater transferred into a Broadway show.

Fairview Makes Hope Victim 18

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Unable for the fourth time to break into the win column on the 4-AA West standings, the Hope Bobcats by 89-61 became the 18th victims of the Fairview Cardinals last Saturday night in Camden.

With the halfway mark of the district season coming up this Friday, Fairview has walloped four opponents. The Cards get their roughest test of the season on Friday, however, when they stake the Western Division lead against the Camden Lincoln Tigers, also at 4-0. At 0-4 and 4-12 for the season, the Bobcats are now in the cellar, but things won't permanently count until district tournament time.

Earlier on Saturday the Fairview Junior Cardinals upset the Hope Bobkittens 56-44, as the Kittens were unable to avenge a previous defeat to the same squad.

Trailing 23-16 at halftime, the Bobkittens came back to within four points midway in the third segment before a cold streak sent Fairview to the lead for good. Now 2-2 against 4-AA opposition, the Kittens lost a four-game winning streak with a 7-6 mark.

Many people had expected the unbeaten Fairview Cardinals to eat the Bobcats whole in two minutes, but Hope used a disciplined offense and good defense and surprised some.

Although the locals never led, the Big Cats only trailed 19-15 at the quarter, and were still in it at 35-27 by intermission. After returning from the dressing rooms, though, Fairview took the upper hand through to the finish.

Ricky Putman canned 16 points and Terry Turner II to lead Hope, and Jim Singleton made eight while Danny Reyenga accounted for six. Ronny Brown had five, Phil Watkins four, Thomas Norvell three, and James Simmons two to round out the 61 points. Shady Patton netted 24, Dicky Bush sacked 22, and Richard Sanders banked 16 points for the Redbirds.

Two games dot the schedule this weekend, as things taper off a bit before the first district meets in about two weeks. Friday night sends the Bobcats and Bobkittens to Malvern for two games, then Camden Lincoln invades Jones Field House on Saturday, the night after the Tigers face Fairview.

Crosby Meet Play Resumes After Rains

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — An event that for a time had seemed as unlikely as the reappearance of the sun over the state of California takes place today: the fourth and final round of the 1969 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The rains and high winds that have put much of the state under water for the last week and a half were for the most part absent Sunday as steady Dale Douglass took a precarious one-stroke lead into today's final. Douglass shot a two-under-par 70 over the rugged Pebble Beach course—scene of all the action today as the golfers making the cut converge from two other courses—to go six-under-par for the rain-delayed tournament with a 210 total score.

Following Douglass, a 32-year-old pro from Denver, were one golfer for every score up to par: Howie Johnson at 211, George Archer at 212, John Lotz at 213, Jerry McGee at 214 and Grier Jones at 215.

Douglass, "hitting the ball better than I ever have," shot par of 16 holes on the 6,777-yard Pebble Beach course and birdied the other two. It was a far cry from the final day of the 1963 Crosby when he took 19 strokes to finish the 10th hole.

"I played even par after the 19," he said when reminded of his earlier disaster. "That's pretty important. It's hard to shoot 92 after you have a 19."

It's about time for parents to choose up sides for the Little League baseball season.

Top 10 Cage Teams Good on Defense

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Top Ten teams in college basketball put up a perfect defense of the high ground last week, but several of them might find it more difficult protecting themselves this week.

Led by undisputed king-of-the-hill UCLA and its victories over Northwestern and Chicago Loyola, the Top Ten rolled up an 11-0 record last week, making any rating changes doubtful in the weekly Associated Press poll.

But seventh-ranked New Mexico State, carrying a 16-0 mark after routing Tennessee Tech at home, will be the first to say it won't be so easy to match perfection in the next six days.

The Aggies must put their high position and flawless record on the line twice against cross-state rival New Mexico 11-6, first at home Wednesday and then at New Mexico Saturday.

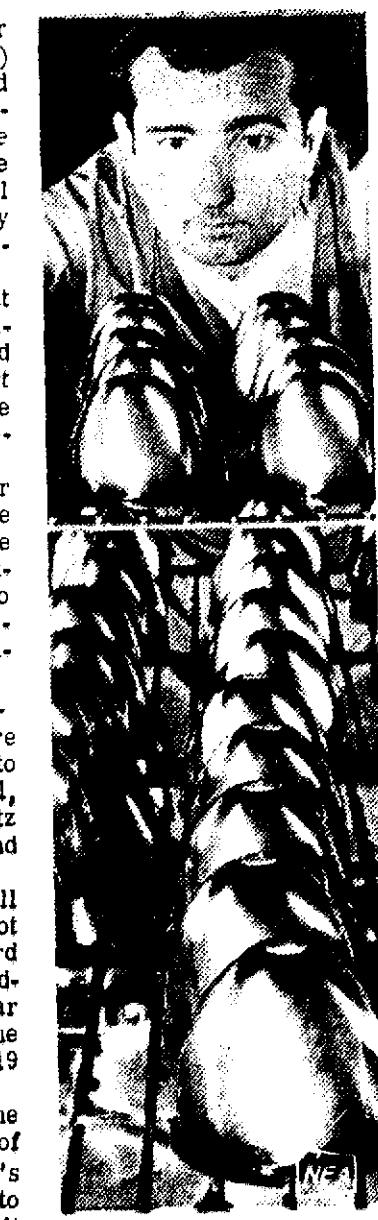

Illinois, No. 8, after easily beating back 15th-ranked Notre Dame, could have as much difficulty standing tall with games at 12th-ranked Big Ten rival Ohio State, 11-2, Tuesday and at home against Wisconsin Saturday.

Duquesne, which protected its No. 10 ranking with a come-from-behind triumph over tough St. Bonaventure 84-69 Sunday, must face Spencer Haywood and Detroit at home Thursday.

Davidson, No. 4, after playing at George Washington Tuesday, must take on Iowa at Chicago Stadium Saturday; Kentucky, No. 5, expects easy pickings at Alabama tonight, but then clashes at home Saturday against Vanderbilt, and St. John's, No. 6, hosts tough Temple Saturday.

Only the top three teams of UCLA, North Carolina and Santa Clara and ninth-ranked LaSalle figure to be easy winners.

The Bruins entertain California and Stanford during the weekend, the Tar Heels are at The Citadel and Clemson Tuesday and Saturday and Santa Clara travels to Hayward State Friday. LaSalle is at St. Francis, Pa., Tuesday before hosting Loyola La., Saturday.

SHELL GAME? Looks like that's what Ed Cox is playing, but actually he's inspecting sections of pull-down light fixtures at Scovill's Los Angeles plant.

O.J. Wants $600,000 for Contract

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The

pickings will be easy for the Buffalo Bills at the outset of Tuesday's pro football draft. After that, O.J. Simpson's apparent employers-to-be could run into double trouble:

— Getting O.J.'s signature on a Buffalo contract.

— And finding a top flight quarterback to complement the brilliant ball carrier from Southern California.

With the American and National football leagues' third combined draft session less than 24 hours away it's a foregone conclusion that the Bills will make Simpson the No. 1 selection.

Then they'll have to meet the Heisman Trophy winner's price — more than $600,000, according to his business manager. And even with O.J. in the backfield they still won't go places in the AFL without a skilled quarterback, according to Joe Namath.

Chuck Barnes, president of Sports Headliners, Inc., said last weekend he and Simpson have a figure in mind in excess of the $600,000 bonus-salary package given Donny Anderson by the Green Bay Packers in 1964.

"We're not talking about anything as long term as 10 years," Barnes said. "I don't think O.J. wants to play football that long. He is interested in going into social work after football."

"If the Bills were unwilling to meet our price, we would be willing to negotiate. Our No. 1 responsibility will be to work out the best arrangement we can for O.J."

"We know how much we're thinking about, but we don't want to end up doing our negotiating in the papers."

Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, paused between planes on a trip to the Far East and said he expects the only trouble Simpson will have with the Bills will be "figuring out how to spend his money."

Quarterbacks might be at a premium in the two-day draft session, during which 442 college players will be selected over 17 rounds by the 16 NFL and 10 AFL clubs.

The Los Angeles Rams will have three first round selections as a result of earlier trades. The San Francisco 49ers and San Diego Chargers will get two No. 1 picks apiece.

By the time Buffalo, given the top pick because its 1-12-1 record last season was the poorest in either league, gets a second shot, the quarterbacks rated highest by pros scouts—Notre Dame's Terry Hanratty, Kansas' Bob Douglass, Cincinnati's Greg Cook—figure to be long gone.

Dogfight to End, Declares Baylor Coach

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

A dogfight to the end.

That's the way Baylor coach Bill Menefee sees the Southwest Conference basketball race in the light of Saturday's 73-70 upset of the Bears by the upstart Texas Tech Red Raiders.

The win by Texas Tech gave Texas A&M sole ownership of the top spot with a 4-0 record. Tech, Baylor, and Texas each have 2-1 records and Southern Methodist is 3-2.

"It's the most balanced I've ever seen the league," said Menefee. "I wouldn't be surprised to see this thing end up in a tie. Surely, Texas A&M can't go on winning those close ones in the last few seconds."

Texas A&M has won three of its four games by a single point with come-from-behind surges.

"I originally thought a 10-4 record would win it, but now it looks like an 11-3 mark might turn the trick," said Menefee. "There's not a team in the league that can't beat another."

Menefee said he was most impressed by Texas Tech.

"They sure made things gloomy around here," he said. Texas Tech hit 16 straight free throws in one stretch and sophomore Steve Williams made three in the final 30 seconds for the margin of victory.

Jerry Turner led the Red Raider scorers with 15 points before a regional television audience. The scrambled conference chase unwinds full throttle this week.

Baylor travels to Fayetteville to play Arkansas Tuesday and Texas is at Texas Tech.

The Aggies warm up with non-conference foe Houston Tuesday night.

Four crucial tilts are on tap Saturday.

Baylor is at Rice for a day game; Arkansas is at TCU for another day tussle; and Texas A&M is at Texas in a televised day game. Texas Tech is at SMU for a night game.

Gene Phillips of Southern Methodist paces the SWC scoring parade with 22.6 points while Greg Williams of Rice has the overall lead with a 22.9 average per game.

The SWC is 40-33 against outside foes with the A&M-Houston game the only non-conference battle of the week.

And How!

DETROIT (AP) — Singer Tiny Tim, a hockey fan, came to see a recent Detroit-Philadelphia National Hockey League game but insisted he be able to sit next to Gordie Howe.

"Because people always throw things at me," he said and I figure I'll be safe sitting next to Howe. He could protect me.

Flyers Are

Getting Two

Minutes Worth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Flyers are getting their two minutes worth . . . and then some . . . from penalty killer Dick Cherry.

Cherry, a 31-year-old National Hockey League newcomer, scored two goals in the final 67 seconds . . . the first with Philadelphia short-handed . . . to give the Flyers a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Penguins Sunday night.

The goals were the second and third of a brief NHL career for Cherry, who had a six-game tryout with Boston 13 years ago, kicked around the minors until 1967, when he quit the game to teach school, and came back with the Flyers last fall.

Elsewhere, Boston's streaking East Division leaders shaded Minnesota 4-3, St. Louis runaway West Division pacesetters trimmed Oakland 3-1, Chicago blasted Los Angeles 9-3, New York nipped Montreal 3-2 and Detroit edged Toronto 3-2.

With 1607 to play at Philadelphia and the Flyers' Myron Stankiewicz in the penalty box, Cherry banged in the tie-breaking goal after a pass from rookie.

le Dick Sarrazin. Then, with 14 seconds remaining and Pittsburgh goalie Les Binkley off the ice for a sixth attacker, Cherry hit the unguarded cage for an insurance maker.

Sarrazin set a club record with four assists in the game, which was marked by two brawls—between Philadelphia's Guy Gendron and Pittsburgh's Dunc McCallum in the first period and Forbes Kennedy of the Flyers and Ken Schinkel of the Penguins in the finale.

Phil Esposito, the league's top scorer, fired his 30th goal and set up two others for a 46-game total of 73 points as the Bruins extended their unbeaten streak to 14 and their division edge over runner-up Montreal to seven points.

Nixon to Eliminate or Cut Many LBJ Programs and Substitute Own

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A top government official says several Johnson administration programs will be cut or eliminated as soon as possible to make room for the objectives of President Nixon.

In a letter to top department and agency heads, Budget Director Robert P. Mayo Sunday urged the officials to study the budget submitted by former President Johnson to see which proposals can be thrown out or scaled down.

"This task is urgent and important," Mayo said. "We must start now to redirect the government's activities along the lines of our own objectives, reducing and removing programs where we can."

Mayo also said the administration is assuming the Johnson-sponsored 10 per cent income surtax will be extended past its July 1 expiration date.

Removal of the surtax remains a major goal of the Nixon administration that must wait until "economic conditions and defense needs will permit," the letter said.

Although Nixon promised during his presidential campaign to do all possible to eliminate or reduce the surtax, he has said more recently that probably won't be achieved until the Vietnam war ends.

Johnson predicted a surplus of more than $3 billion for this fiscal year and Mayo is trying to increase this in order to gain funding flexibility for the new administration.

Heading his list of suggestions was this one:

"Examine closely all programs, expansions and 'new starts' proposed by the preceding administration, and reduce or eliminate those of lower priority. For example, either federal programs or parts of

Naked Actors, Actresses Arrested

By STEVE WILDSTROM
Associated Press Writer
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Six actors and four actresses were arrested Sunday at the University of Michigan after performing in a play in which they stripped naked.

They were ordered to appear in District Court in Ann Arbor today on indecent exposure charges which carry a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $500 fine. Police did not release the names of those arrested.

The members of the New York company, the Performance Group, removed their clothes for 15 minutes a third of the way through the 3½-hour play, "Dionysus in '69," and for 20 minutes at the end.

Advance billing that the actors would "kiss and fondle each other from head to toe" created a furor among state legislators.

State Sen. Gilbert Bursley, Ann Arbor Republican, said Sunday night "some of my colleagues will no doubt be shocked" when he reports to the state Senate this week.

However, University President Robben Fleming, who did not attend, defended the play in a statement Saturday, in which he said nudity was difficult to describe as obscene, and at question was "the context within which nudity occurred."

Academic and professional people regarded the play, a contemporary version of Euripides' "Bacchae," as worthy of serious consideration, Fleming said.

THE WELL CHILD

Child's Temperature Not as Stable as Adult's

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The body temperature of a child is not as stable as that of an adult. In children, sudden fevers that disappear as mysteriously as they occur are common. Now it has been found that, in some children, chewing gum steadily for five minutes or more may raise the temperature as much as 1.4 degrees (100 degrees). The cause is not the gum but the exercise of muscles close to the place where the thermometer is held.

To a lesser degree, vigorous running or other exercise may cause a child's temperature to rise. For this reason you should let your child rest for 15 minutes before taking his temperature. It is not how high his temperature goes but the cause of the rise that is important. Whenever your child has an unexplained fever of 100 degrees or over that lasts for more than a day you should call your doctor.

Q—I have a son who is autistic. It takes him a very long time to go to sleep and this is getting worse. Does his autism cause this?

A—Autism is characterized by a complete failure to communicate, a desire to be let alone and an insistence on certain rituals being followed at mealtime and bedtime. Although deficient in emotional and social development, an autistic child is far from being mentally de-have jumped to three diamonds on a suit headed by ace-10 only.

Jim: "Even then the slam would be on a finesse, so at the worst South would have an even money chance. I note that he also bid the slam in no-trump."

Oswald: "Of course, he bid it in no-trump. He could be sure that this particular hand would play perfectly in no-trump and that there would be no danger of a ruff of the first trick when there were no trumps around to ruff with."

Oswald: "That shows an unusual use of Blackwood. South knew that the grand slam would only be a cinch if his partner held the king of diamonds as his one king but South was willing to bet that his partner would not

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 1♥ Pass 2 N.T.
Pass 3♥ Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠A6 ♠KJ7 ♠A104 ♠KQ108
What do you do now?
A—Bid three spades. You don't know if your partner's three-heart bid is the start of a slam try or merely an effort to stop at four hearts and hope for the best but you can't lose with this three-spade call.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You do bid three spades and your partner bids four clubs. What do you do now?

Oswald: "We have mentioned on many occasions that the chief use for the Blackwood convention is to keep out of bad slams."

Jim: "There is no reason why we shouldn't discuss that some more. The correct time to use Blackwood is when you intend to bid a slam provided your opponents can't cash enough aces off the top to beat you before you get started."

Oswald: "The second use for Blackwood is to decide about seven once you are committed to six. Here is a hand from a rubber bridge game at the Cavendish Club in New York that illustrates both points."

Jim: "The moment that North found a jump rebid in diamonds South knew that he was going to a small slam if his partner would show up with two aces. True, there was some chance that North could hold two losing hearts and that a slam might be beaten but South was going to take that chance."

Oswald: "When North showed three aces South was ready for the second part of Blackwood. He bid five no-trump to ask for kings."

Jim: "I see that South went right to seven no-trump when his partner showed one king."

Oswald: "That shows an unusual use of Blackwood. South knew that the grand slam would only be a cinch if his partner held the king of diamonds as his one king but South was willing to bet that his partner would not

High-Speed Road;
Report Due on Red
River Pollution

Your editor was in Little Rock Friday night and Saturday morning on committee business for the Arkansas Press Association, it being my first occasion to travel over the newly-opened stretch of Interstate 30 between Arkadelphia and Malvern.

Interstate 30 now is complete from just east of the Little Missouri River to Little Rock, and it makes a noticeable difference in the time required to drive from Hope to the state capital.

Formerly it was 124 miles and 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 hours. Now it is just 117 miles from Hope's Town and Country restaurant to Little Rock's Grady Manning hotel, and the non-stop legal-limit driving time is 1 hour and 50 minutes. Traffic was heavy Friday afternoon but light Saturday p.m., reflecting the decline in shopping on Saturday, which used to be the No. 1 business day. What with the five-day work week, rising operating costs, and changing leisure-hour habits of the public, an increasing number of business establishments in the large cities no longer open on Saturday.

Speaking of Interstate 30, Brooks Shults of Fulton, who spent the Christmas holidays with his daughter's family in Norfolk, Va., reports that the big road is finished all the way through Memphis and Nashville clear to Knoxville, except for 15 miles between the last two cities. I-30 may be opened into Prescott somewhat earlier but it will be another two years before the Prescott-Fulton stretch is completed — the last link in the military road system in Arkansas.

Over the week-end I received notice that the 44th annual convention of the Red River Valley Association, of which The Star is a long-time member, will meet April 7-8 at Hotel's Captain Shreve and Washington-Youree in Shreveport.

Our Millwood dam is completed, of course, but the 1969 convention still holds interest for this area because it will hear reports on the progress of plans to restore navigation on Red River—at least as far upstream as Shreveport.

Another expectation is the release of the long-awaited Corps of Engineers report on studies to relieve salt pollution throughout the Red River basin. As the association bulletin says:

"The report, known as Ark-Red Chloride Control, Part I, was initiated into the advance planning and engineering status by an appropriation by Congress last year in the amount of $388,000. Again this year money in the amount of $436,000 was included in the President's budget for fiscal year 1970 to continue planning."

Red River pollution has been discussed in this column in detail in recent months, but for those who have forgotten here is a brief run-down:

The pollution referred to is not man-made but natural. At its headwaters the Red is pure, but the river is polluted as it flows through salt-bearing formations in Texas. Good-water tributaries help the Red as they empty into it, but pollution remains heavy. In places in Texas cattle won't drink Red River water, although it is drinkable in our own area because of the dilution this far down from smaller rivers having good water. The Corps of Engineers is studying a novel system of inflated and mobile fabric dams to create settling basins along the course of the Red in an attempt to drop out the salt and make Red River's water entirely usable.

Says Bill Will Hurt His Firm

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Herbert L. Thomas Sr., of Little Rock, board chairman of First Pyramid Life Insurance Co., said Saturday that a Senate bill passed Friday would increase his company's taxes by 10 times.

Thomas and some other members of the Citizens for Good Government Committee were criticized Friday by Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway for allegedly wanting taxes for everyone but themselves.

The 'Catch Me Killer' Trial Has Opened in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

By FRANK MURRAY
Associated Press Writer
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The haunting familiarity of a human voice—can a listener identify with certainty the recorded telephone voice of an emotionally disturbed killer? That's the issue in the "catch-me killer" trial which opens today.

Robert John Erler, 24, the defendant, is charged with murdering 12-year-old Marilyn Clark Aug. 12 in nearby Hollywood, Fla., with four bullets fired into her head from eight inches away and a fifth that entered her cheek and severed the girl's spine.

Erler's attorney, Joseph Varon, will ask the court to suppress tape recordings of his client's voice which the prosecution wants jury members to compare with tapes of a telephone call to the sheriff's office. In the call at 6:18 a.m., Aug. 12, Deputy James Rice was told: "I just killed three people

J.R. Bennett, President, Homestead Industries, Inc., and the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, Inc. today announced groundbreaking for a 61,000-square foot mobile home manufacturing facility of 16 acres of the Hempstead County Industrial tract in Hope north of Interstate No. 30 overpass and North Hazel Street.

Officers of the new company are:

Study Peace Talk Reports

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — American and South Vietnamese negotiators studied reports today on the upsurge of Viet Cong attacks, considering their effect on the Vietnam peace talks.

The attacks, apparently timed to coincide with the opening of the four party conference, intensified over the weekend along the Cambodian border and in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon.

South Vietnamese sources said the Saigon government probably would instruct its delegate, Pham Dang Lam, to warn the next meeting of the conference Thursday that any new wave of violence could obstruct the way to peace.

American officials said the attacks "are not likely to improve the atmosphere" at the conference. But they added that the U.S. Government has always expected the fighting to continue, at least through the initial stages of the new series of talks.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front have never concealed their intention to "fight and talk," to continue the war unabated until the United States has agreed to withdraw its forces from South Vietnam.

Their delegates made this clear again in their statements to the opening plenary session Saturday.

"As long as the United States continues its aggression, the 31 million Vietnamese, united as one man, will go on fighting until total victory," said Hanoi's delegate Xuan Thuy.

Tran Bui Kiem, "foreign minister" of the NLF central committee, used almost the same words to warn that the fighting would not subside just because the conference has started.

Although the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam last November to get the Paris talks going, it intensified its bombing of North Vietnamese troops and supplies moving south through Laos. And U.S. and South Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam have intensified their operations seeking to root out the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and destroy them.

Court Rules Favorably to Churches

WASHINGTON (AP) — A unanimous Supreme Court today prohibited courts throughout the land from deciding matters of church doctrine.

The far-reaching ruling said the Constitution forbids civil courts from reaching to "the very core of a religion" and determining if a church is adhering to its doctrines.

The immediate effect is to bar courts from settling property disputes that hinge on controversies over religious doctrine and practice.

It is likely to forestall breakways by dissident local churches whose congregations disagree with the philosophy and policies of the parent church bodies.

The ruling directly involved the million-member Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern) and its dispute with two local churches in Savannah, Ga.

In 1968 the membership of the local churches, Hull Memorial and Eastern Heights, voted to withdraw from the general church and reconstitute themselves as an autonomous Presbyterian organization. The congregations objected to various stands taken by the parent church, including support for civil disobedience as a last-ditch means of achieving civil rights.

Equipment to Destroy Enemy Ships Improved After the Pueblo Incident

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy says that improved destruction equipment was installed in the sister ships of the USS Pueblo after the intelligence vessel were captured by North Korea just over a year ago.

The acknowledgement came after Pueblo Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher told a Navy court of inquiry in California last week that he had been denied such equipment on two occasions "because of money and time."

The court of inquiry, which has been taking testimony in the Pueblo case, has generated heated controversy over Bucher's statements that superiors twice rejected his requests for a system for swift destruction of secret intelligence equipment and documents.

Asked why the Pueblo was not provided with this equipment, the Navy said the subject is being covered by the court of inquiry.

However, the Navy did say that "improved destruct equipment has been installed in all ships of the Pueblo class," and that this was accomplished after the Pueblo was seized Jan. 23, 1968.

Bucher told the five-admiral court last week that his ship had only fireaxes and sledgehammers to break up equipment and an incinerator for burning papers.

Some critics have contended that former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara implied that the Pueblo's crew was able to accomplish extensive destruction of sensitive equipment and materials before being overwhelmed by the North Koreans.

Testimony given to a House subcommittee last February about Bucher shows that McNamara said:

"I cannot tell you exactly how much destruction he accomplished, but as you go through the message traffic, it is very clear that he accomplished a great deal. Whether he started early enough again I cannot say. I am not entirely sure of exactly when he started, how much effort he applied to it, and so on."

Asked whether destruct devices on the Pueblo were adequate, McNamara told Rep. Robert L.F. Sikes, "I cannot answer that question fully." He added:

"I have asked the technical authorities to examine it. They say they believe so. It is possible that with further technical developments we can design more sophisticated destruct devices."

Charges Filed in Slaying at Prescott
PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP)—Samuel T. Freeman, 45, of Searcy was charged Saturday with first-degree murder in connection with the strangulation death of a Prescott woman.

Police said Freeman, who went by two aliases, Joseph Kurek and Joseph Kelly, identified himself as Kurek Thursday night when he turned himself in to Garland County authorities.

Freeman was charged with the slaying of Mrs. Betty Arrington, 33, whose body was found in the bedroom of her home Wednesday morning. She lived alone with her five children.

Nevada County Sheriff Arthur said Freeman was serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary for murder from Pulaski County in 1964 when he was granted a furlough to go home in December 1967. Freeman never returned, Wicker said.

Up Attacks in Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported 180 more indications of North Vietnamese activity inside the demilitarized zone during a five-day period last week.

"We still have a lot of sightings of enemy troops in the DMZ," said a U.S. source, "but it doesn't appear anything major has moved across. There have been no large unit sightings reported and we doubt that there are any regimental or division headquarters in the area."

Another source said that North Vietnamese troops were building bunkers in both halves of the DMZ, but "we've been shooting them up as fast as we find them."

The report came two days after U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the first substantive session of the four-party Vietnam peace talks in Paris that "the search for peace can begin in the DMZ."

"We believe that the demilitarized status of the zone between North and South Vietnam should be restored immediately," Lodge said in his opening statement.

Only one of the 180 indications from last Monday through Friday was considered significant by the U.S. Command—enemy gunners shooting off a tire of a light American reconnaissance plane flying over the DMZ. Five enemy gun emplacements were destroyed by U.S. artillery after that attack, spokesmen said.

During the same five-day period, U.S. headquarters said American bombers, warships and artillery fired five times into the DMZ after enemy activity was sighted.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops launched a dozen attacks on allied bases and other installations over the week-end, bearing out the predictions of U.S. military analysts that the Communist command would increase its operations to boost its negotiating position in Paris while the new administration is still settling down in Washington.

In three battles northwest and south of Saigon, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 127 enemy. U.S. losses were nine men killed and 22 wounded and South Vietnamese casualties were one dead and four wounded.

Leader Says Talks Off to Good Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the Nixon administration is off to "a good beginning" in taking over the U.S. role at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

Mansfield said proposals made by Nixon's representative in Paris, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, seemed aimed at establishing "the strongest possible positions" for the United States.

Mansfield was joined in his assessment by Republican Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, who said the talks under Lodge were off to "a very good start."

Both senators, however, cautioned that the discussions are not likely to move to a quick settlement.

Neither Mansfield nor Aiken said they saw much difference in the Paris policies of the Nixon delegation from those followed by the U.S. negotiators sent by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The chief U.S. negotiator under Johnson, W. Averell Harriman, said Sunday he could not predict but hopes for a de-escalation in the fighting and the withdrawal of some American troops from Vietnam by the end of this year.

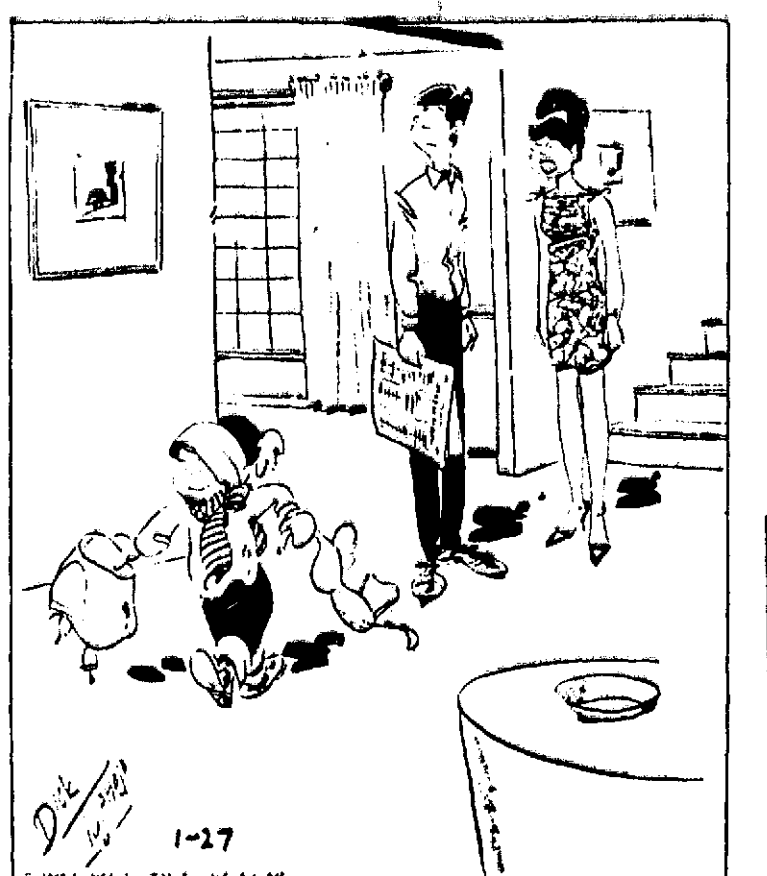

"I would hope very much that a mutual agreement could be reached in de-escalation of the fighting, and it would be possible for a mutual agreement on the withdrawal of foreign forces, including those of Vietnam, and we could see some of our men come home this year with very much reduced fighting."

Inquiry Court Goes Into Secret Meet

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — A court of inquiry has called into closed session an admiral who inspected the USS Pueblo before it steamed for North Korea with what the skipper called inadequate guns.

Before Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson's testimony today, however, Capt. Forrest A. Pease, his chief of staff during the Pueblo's capture, was summoned to testify behind closed doors.

The Navy court begins its second week of testimony into the capture of the Pueblo and imprisonment of its crew.

Secret testimony is necessary, the Navy says, about information classified in the interest of national defense.

Johnson is commandant of the 13th Naval District in Seattle, Wash. Pease remained in Japan as chief of staff for the commander of U.S. naval forces there.

In unclassified portions of closed-door testimony Saturday, the Navy said the top intelligence officer at Johnson's headquarters in Japan testified he was not aware the North Koreans threatened "determined countermeasures" against U.S. intelligence ships before the Pueblo sailed.

The intelligence officer, Capt. Thomas L. Dwyer, said also he didn't know of any effective way to destroy secret material such as the Pueblo carried, then or now, the Navy said.

The Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, testified in open sessions last week that Johnson inspected the Pueblo two days before it left his headquarters at Yokosuka, Japan.

"He inspected it very informally," Bucher said. "Nevertheless I thought his questions were penetrating and his inspection of the ship, I thought was much more thorough than the normal informal inspection I might have expected to receive."

"With respect to what Adm. Johnson told you as to use of the guns, did he tell you what they were to be used for?"

"He said they were to be used in the event that all other, all else, failed in extracting ourselves from a harassment situation such as had not been experienced before," Bucher said. He was quite sure that they would never be needed and I was under the definite impression that everyone was not in concurrence at Commander Naval Forces, Japan, that the guns should even be located on the ship.

"I received this impression from many officers up there. They did not think that they (the guns) belonged on the ship and ... they felt uneasy about putting the guns on there, that we might in fact, by having the guns, draw the type of reaction from potential enemy forces that we did not want, which was an attack on the ship."

Bucher later testified he was "hopelessly outgunned" when North Koreans opened fire on his vessel. He said he had asked the Navy for two 20mm weapons, but received two .50-caliber machine guns—smaller and lighter.

CURT JOHNSTON

A computer, The Incredible Machine, was the subject of a clever, illustrated talk which Curt Johnston of the Southwest Bell Telephone Company presented at the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at the Town and Country. After an introduction by Cecil Bittle, Mr. Johnston made use of a number of pieces of electronic equipment to show the advancement of touch-tone dialing.

"Perfect communication," he said, "would be mental telepathy."

Until that can be achieved, we can have talking machines which even translate the spoken word from one language to another. This and other telephone services of the future were shown.

President Harold Eakley announced that Chet Lauck would be the Ladies Night speaker in February, and the 21st was the date chosen for the dinner. Visiting Rotarians at last week's meeting were John T. McRae of Prescott and Otis Higginbotham of Ashdown.

Nixon Adds to White House Scenery

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has added something new to the White House scene—Sunday church services in the executive mansion's East Room.

The presidential family invited cabinet members, other ranking officials and members of the White House staff and their families to services Sunday in the first of what is expected to be a fairly regular event.

Evangelist Billy Graham, an old friend of Nixon, conducted the services for the more than 225 persons attending and asked God to grant the President and his advisors "a wisdom that is beyond their own" in dealing with the crisis of our time.

Nixon, a Quaker, plans on inviting pastors of different religions to officiate at the services. White House staff members on all levels will be invited on a rotating basis. Graham is a Baptist.

Although religious ceremonies have been held infrequently in the White House, Nixon said that as far as he knows not until Sunday was a service conducted in the East Room.

That room, with its great crystal chandelier and portraits of the nation's first First Family, Gen. and Mrs. George Washington, has been used for many varied functions—hanging laundry, concerts, news conference—but until now not for worship.

Only one Sunday church service was missing—the collection plate. Graham noted this and said that the last time he and the President attended church together the collection plate was there but Nixon had forgotten his money.

"I loaned him the biggest bill I had," Graham said, without telling the amount.

In his sermon Graham recalled part of Nixon's inaugural speech last week in which the new President said "to a crisis of the spirit, we need an answer of the spirit."

This view pinpoints the answer to the problems of today, Graham told the congregation. It's not the material things of life that solve the ills of the world, the evangelist said, but rather what is found in the spirit.

After the guests had left, the President, his wife and their elder daughter Tricia took a drive around Washington, touring some of the areas he lived in since first coming to Washington after World War II.

First cows arrived at the Jamestown Colony in 1611.
